Summary: Empowering Tomorrow's Leaders Today

The Youth Lead Dialogue organised by the Hardik Dewan Foundation stands as a significant national youth policy dialogue crafted under the aegis of the United Nations Youth Office Initiative, #YouthLead Festival. This landmark event commemorates the 30th anniversary of the World Programme of Action for Youth, serving as an unparalleled platform to elevate the voices of Indian youth onto the global stage at the UN Headquarters in New York. We believe in the transformative power of youth, and this event is designed to be a catalyst for meaningful intergenerational collaboration.

Theme: "Accelerating Global Progress Through Intergenerational Collaboration."

The event convened 1,000+ delegates, including students, policymakers, entrepreneurs, academics, and civil society leaders. It produced concrete recommendations that will directly feed into the United Nations General Assembly High-Level Meeting on Youth in September 2025.

The Dialogue established itself as one of the largest youth policy forums ever held in India. It provided a structured space for intergenerational collaboration, where young people's priorities were not just noted but treated as actionable mandates. This report presents a comprehensive narrative of the event, its key proceedings, survey results, emerging themes, and policy directions. It serves both as a record and as a blueprint for future youth policy.

India, home to the world's largest youth population, was an essential contributor to this global exercise. The Youth Lead Dialogue 2025 at Bharat Mandapam was India's flagship contribution, ensuring that the voices of Indian youth shape both national policies and global decision-making frameworks under the #Youth2030 agenda.

Event Highlights: Lamp Lighting

The Youth Lead Dialogue 2025 commenced with the traditional Lamp Lighting Ceremony (Deep Prajwalan), an age-old practice in Indian culture symbolising the victory of knowledge over ignorance and light over darkness. Lighting the lamp is seen as an invocation of positive energy and divine blessings, setting a sacred tone for the dialogue. It blended the cultural roots of India with the spiritual essence of beginning any noble effort, and was performed in the presence of the distinguished guests and dignitaries.

The Lamp Lighting Ceremony also carried a profound spiritual message for the audience. It reminded everyone that just as a single flame can dispel darkness, the light of wisdom and truth has the power to guide humanity through challenges and uncertainty. The rising flame symbolised purity, hope, and the eternal quest for enlightenment, teaching the gathering that progress is possible only when inner values illuminate outward action. For the youth present, it served as a gentle lesson that their journey must be anchored in integrity and purpose, for light not only brightens the path ahead but also inspires others to follow.

It was also a symbol that the voices of young people are just as important in shaping the future of both nations and the world.

After this, Shri Manohar Lal Khattar, Hon'ble Union Minister of Power and Urban Development Affairs, was welcomed as the Chief Guest to open the session. # Event Highlights: Statement by VIPS-TC

Dr. S. C. Vats, Founder & Chairman of VIPS-TC, with Hardik Dewan, Founder of Hardik Dewan Foundation, unveiling the Education Partnership for Youth Lead Dialogue 2025.

Statement by Vivekananda Institute of Professional Studies-Technical Campus, Delhi

VIPS-TC is proud to have partnered with the Hardik Dewan Foundation as the Education Partner for the Youth Lead Dialogue 2025 at Bharat Mandapam. This initiative, held under the banner of the United Nations Youth Office's #YouthLead Festival, brought together over a thousand delegates, young students, policymakers, entrepreneurs, and change-makers – to engage in one of India's largest youth policy dialogues.

What makes this Dialogue extraordinary is that its outcome document will now travel to the United Nations General Assembly in New York. In doing so, it takes the voice of Indian youth from the halls of Bharat Mandapam to the world's most important global forum, ensuring that their ideas shape international policy and the future of #Youth2030.

As Shri Manohar Lal Khattar, Hon'ble Union Minister, rightly reminded, the greatest youth icon for India remains Swami Vivekananda, whose ideals of courage, service, and spiritual strength continue to guide generations. This Dialogue, too, echoed his vision by nurturing young minds to rise with purpose, discipline, and an unwavering commitment to nation-building.

For us at VIPS-TC, this partnership reaffirms our belief that education is not only about learning but about empowering young people to lead, to dream, and to take India's story to the global stage.

Audience's Opinions and Inputs Connecting with Tomorrow's Innovators

As part of the engagement, students were invited to share their opinions and inputs about the event as well as on pressing global issues. Their active participation brought fresh perspectives, reflecting the concerns, aspirations, and innovative ideas of the younger generation. This exchange not only enriched the discussion but also emphasised the importance of youth voices in shaping conversations on national progress and global challenges.

Delegate Demographics

Which of the following challenges do you think are the most urgent for youth today?

Graphical Key

- Education & Skill Development
- Employment & Entrepreneurship
- Mental Health & Wellbeing
- Political Representation
- Gender Equality & Inclusion
- Climate Change & Environment
- Digital Divide & Technology Access

The analysis clearly shows that youth priorities are centered on building a strong foundation for the future through health, education, and equality, while also recognising the importance of sustainable growth, urban development, and global cooperation. Their choices reflect not only personal aspirations but also a collective sense of responsibility toward society and the planet. By aligning with these SDGs, the younger generation demonstrates its readiness to be active partners in shaping a more inclusive, sustainable, and prosperous world.

Audience's Opinions and Inputs Connecting with Tomorrow's Innovators

What is your biggest takeaway from the Youth Lead Dialogue?

The charts map each response to one or more themes and then count how often each appears. Youth voice & participation dominates, followed by motivation & leadership, civic values & nation-first, and education & skill development. Entrepreneurship/employment and technology (including AI and digital inclusion) form the next tier, while intergenerational gap/solidarity, collaboration/networking, and financial literacy show a steady presence. Mentions of gender equality, climate/environment, and mental health are fewer in this sample, and negative event feedback was minimal, serving more as a signal than noise.

In terms of programme design, prioritise platforms for youth participation (policy forums, youth councils), leadership and mentoring pathways, and skills curricula that link education to jobs and start-ups. Build in digital inclusion and AI literacy, create structured intergenerational dialogue, and embed practical financial education. In short: give young people a real voice, real skills, and real routes to impact—and the rest will follow.

Audience's Opinions and Inputs Connecting with Tomorrow's Innovators

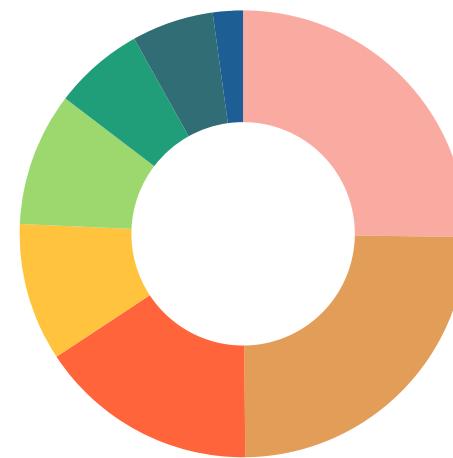

As part of the engagement, students were invited to share their opinions and inputs about the event as well as on pressing global issues. Their active participation brought fresh perspectives, reflecting the concerns, aspirations, and innovative ideas of the younger generation. This exchange not only enriched the discussion but also emphasised the importance of youth voices in shaping conversations on national progress and global challenges.

Graphical Key

- SDG 3: Good Health and Well-being
- SDG 4: Quality Education
- SDG 5: Gender Equality
- SDG 8: Decent Work and Economic Growth
- SDG 11: Sustainable Cities and Communities
- SDG 17: Partnerships for the Goals
- SDG 13: Climate Action
- SDG 15: Life on Land

Delegate Demographics

Which Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) inspires you the most?

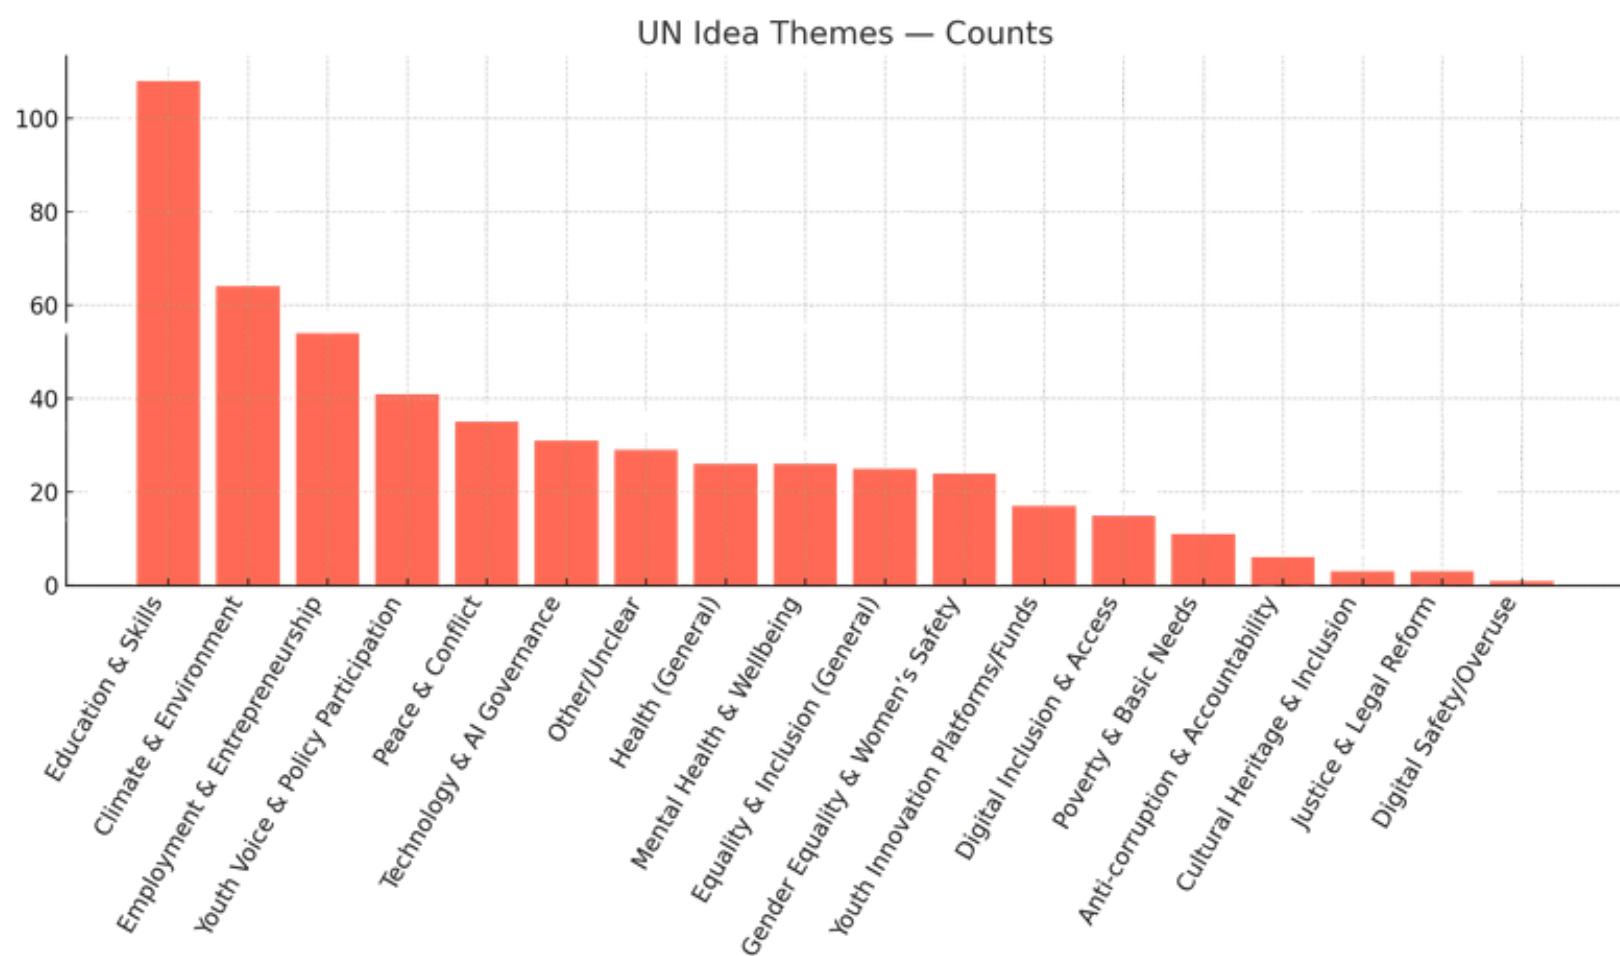

The survey responses underline that the youth are deeply invested in issues of health, education, equality, and sustainable livelihoods, while also showing significant awareness of global challenges such as climate change, urbanisation, and partnerships. The prominence of SDG 3 and SDG 4 demonstrates that young people see well-being and education as the twin pillars of future progress.

This data reflects a forward-looking mindset among students, eager to balance personal aspirations with collective responsibility, and committed to aligning themselves with the broader vision of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and Viksit Bharat 2047.

Audience's Opinions and Inputs Connecting with Tomorrow's Innovators

If you had the chance to present one idea at the United Nations, what would it be?

Education & Skills is the clear anchor of the dataset (108 tags; 20.8%), followed by Climate & Environment (64; 12.3%) and Employment & Entrepreneurship (54; 10.4%). There's strong demand for Youth Voice & Policy Participation (41; 7.9%), with supporting clusters in Technology & AI Governance, Mental Health, Gender Equality & Women's Safety, and Digital Inclusion. In short: respondents want practical learning that leads to real jobs, alongside fair access, safety, and a genuine say in decisions.

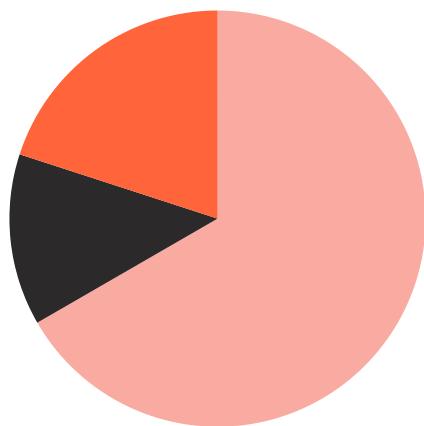

The practical read-across is simple. Treat education as the system lever (skills, entrepreneurship, climate literacy, mental health, and digital safety), and pair it with power-sharing: formal youth councils, budget lines, and innovation funds so young people don't just speak, they steer. Quick wins: pilot a Youth Climate & Innovation Corps (jobs + impact), accelerate connectivity and devices, and mainstream gender safety and social-audit accountability. Less fanfare, more follow-through.
